Cramerton Officer Receives National Firearms Award

Cramerton Police Officer Belinda Robinson has been awarded the GLOCK Sport Shooting Foundation's United States Female Law Enforcement/Guardian Division National Championship. Robinson was also awarded the Foundation's North and South Carolina Female Law Enforcement/Guardian Division Championships.

Officer Robinson is a Reserve Police Officer with the Cramerton Police Department where she has served since 1994. "The department is extremely proud of Belinda and her accomplishments with these firearms competitions. She is a truly dedicated public servant who has, for many years, given of her time and talents to the residents of Cramerton through her service with the police department. Her firearms skills are testament to the professional training program the department offers to its officers", said Cramerton Police Chief, Greg Ratchford.

The Cramerton Police Department began its Reserve Police Officer Program in 1981. Reserve Police Officers are trained and certified like their full-time officer counterparts but receive no compensation for their duties.
